6 There is a very good indigenous Veterinary doctor His treatments are very effective He successfully treats a number of cattle He is very popular and people look to him daily This doctor has put in a number o years service in the profession Since he does not charge anything to the public he is not in a position to continue his treatments in future without some help given to him n Many of times the Tiptur Town Municipality submitted proposals t Government for sanction for giving him some grant somehow or other it has not been approved The public consider - that it is very essential that the indigenous system of vet rinary medicines should be encouraged and particularly a pe son who does such a lot of good should be given some assistance to continue his good work especially to the dumb - creation Even now the Municipality have submitted a resolution to Government for sanction In the resolution it is proposed to grant him Rs 20/- monthly allowance for medi cines I request you to kindly order the acceptance of th proposal and also grant some help to him from Government

16 I have referred this matter to the Superintendent, Civil Veterinary Department, who has noted as follows:-

" I am against men who possess no qualifications in Ayurvedic Veterinary Medicine being given -- assistance and especially before some system is introduced to supervise their work Unless a man knows the actions and uses of drugs, it is ridiculous to expect him to treat animals From what I have observed very few of these men know anything about the drugs they use more than that they act as a purge The mysterious way these men compound their concoctions impresses the owners of cattle while in most cases nature really cures the disease

17 I may state that the majority of cases brought for treatment to Veterinary Institutions and to Officers of the Department in villages, are cases which require surgical skill and in 50% of the cases that are unthrifty and suffer from indigestion and other stomach troubles it is the molars that require attention Under these circumstances I fail to see how a village vadian can be of much use

18 Further, cases are continually being brought to notice, where these ignorant men are doing considerable harm in maltreating cows at the time of calving where they frequently rupture the uterus or cause septic poisoning, knowing nothing about asepsis In this case Chennanna is said to be rather good in reducing dislocations, and he more or less confines himself to this work, so under the circumstances he may be encouraged as a very special case '

9 I believe that this note presents the case fairly and that it would be unwise to make a practice of giving state and to untrained men The superintendent seems to think that this man's case may be treated as a special one and I can see no objection to this I regret the delay in returning the file which has been due to pressure of other work
